Projects

E-Commerce

The Amazon.com Home Page Clone project aims to replicate the user interface and functionality of the world-renowned e-commerce platform Amazon.com. This project will provide a comprehensive, high-fidelity clone of Amazon's home page, allowing users to experience the familiar look and feel of the original website.

Portfolio Website

Crafted a captivating portfolio website showcasing my skills and projects, featuring dynamic animations created using a combination of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Leveraged my proficiency in front-end development to design an engaging user interface that not only communicates my professional journey but also incorporates visually appealing and interactive elements. The animations add a layer of sophistication, highlighting my commitment to delivering a seamless user experience. Explore the site to discover my diverse skill set and the innovative use of web technologies in bringing the content to life.
